INTERESTING FACTS

The picturesque Thai island of Koh Samui will be connected to the mainland by a 20-kilometer bridge, which is scheduled to be completed by 2028.

The purpose of this bridge is to significantly improve connectivity and will serve as a crucial transportation link.

The bridge is proposed to stretch from Phangka Beach on Koh Samui to the Khanom district in Nakhon Si Thammarat province. Khanom is the closest point on the mainland.

The mainland bridge project, costing 34 billion baht, will likely lead to a substantial increase in property prices.
